DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 39 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Johnson et al U.S. Patent No 6,275,522 B1.

As per claim 39, Johnson et al discloses a method for estimating channel quality in multi-channel ultra-wideband communication system, the method comprising the steps of: pseudo-randomly placing a plurality of time bins (see figs.3 and 4 and col.5, lines 45-67) within a plurality of time frames, each time bin comprising one or more data bits; assigning a plurality of channels comprising selected pseudo-randomly placed time bins (see col.1, lines 54-67 and col.2, lines 9-15, 19-30); transmitting a multiplicity of data bits through the plurality of channels (see figs.3-4 elements 309, 409 and col.1, lines 54-67 and col.4, lines 39-40); monitoring the number of data bits transmitted through each channel; determining a number of data error in the transmissions (see col.3-col.4); determining a projected bit error rate for at least one transmission (see col.3-col.4); grading a channel quality using at least the projected bit error rate (see col.3, lines 25-67 and col.4, lines 8-67).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 40-41 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Claims 1-38 and 42-48 are allowed.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: determining an absolute value of a difference of the change in adjacent time bin radio frequency amplitude averages, thereby obtaining a rate of change in adjacent time bin radio frequency amplitude averages as recited in claim 1. Determining a difference between the change of the radio frequency amplitude in corresponding time bins across successive frames, thereby obtaining a rate of change in the radio frequency amplitude in corresponding time bins across successive frames as recited in claim 13. Averaging the radio frequency amplitude data from the selected pseudo-randomly placed time bins, thereby obtaining an average radio-frequency amplitude in each of the plurality of channels as recited in claims 24 and 42. Where PBER is a projected value of the bit error rate, n is the number of bits transmitted, CL is a confidence level, N is the total number of bits errors that occur during the transmission and k refer to a K th bit error as recited in claim 40.
